Pastoral Week 2010 Tour

Johnson Space Center & Kemah Boardwalk

Johnson Space Center—NASA Tram Tour With this behind-the-scenes journey through NASA's Johnson Space Center, you may visit the Historic Mission Control Center, the Space Vehicle Mockup Facility or the current Mission Control Center. Before returning to Space Center Houston, you can visit the "all new" Saturn V Complex at Rocket Park. Occasionally, the tour may visit other facilities, such as the Neutral Buoyancy Laboratory. You may even get to see astronauts training for upcoming missions.

Kemah Boardwalk—Overlooking Galveston Bay, the Kemah Boardwalk features themed restaurants, retail shops, and amusements for the whole family.

Tour Day Schedule

To enjoy this fabulous tour we will be leaving the hotel at noon on Monday, January 18 and head to the Johnson Space Center. Since we are leaving at lunch time, a box lunch is included in the tour cost and will be provided as you board the bus. After experiencing the space center our tour will continue at the beautiful Kemah Boardwalk where you will have the opportunity to visit shops, watch the boats and enjoy dinner on your own at one of the fine restaurants. We will then conclude our tour and return to the hotel by 10pm for a good night's sleep after all our fresh air.

The local committee has worked hard to arrange for this wonderful tour and it can be yours for the low cost of $50 payable to NCOD Pastoral Week Tour. NCOD and the local committee would like you to know that this tour has been arranged for your enjoyment and the cost covers your bus transportation, box lunch, and admission to Johnson Space Center.

Due to the high cost of renting a motor coach, we are limited to 55 tourists. All registrations must be received by December 23, 2009 on a first come first served basis. If we do not receive enough participants, we will find it necessary to cancel the tour. If this happens, you will have the option of receiving a refund to be picked up at Pastoral Week or you may choose to donate your tour fee to help us cover the lost deposit on the bus.
